- The new homeowner will acquire the existing workmanship warranty for the time remaining not to exceed 10 years.
- This warranty cannot be transferred again.
- Solar web monitoring must stay connected to maintain this workmanship warranty.

It is the new owner's responsibility (not Sunline) to have "product" warranties transferred over to their name. Many manufacturers require nothing, but some manufactures have their own process to take over existing product warranties and access to the monitoring platform. This could include included additional form and fee. Upon request, Sunline is happy to provide additional information about these product warranties which are dependent on what equipment was installed at the property address.

Additional Services Available

- On-site visit from a technician to connect existing monitoring equipment to your new router ($250)
- 1 on 1 appointment to review monitoring portal, equipment, how to read your bill, etc ($150)
- USB drive mailed containing the full plan-set including all data sheets ($75)
- Solar Panel Cleaning (dependent on system size)
